National Library Week Winners

As mentioned in the April Whistle Stop News, April 7th - 13th was National Library Week. This is a chance to celebrate the ways that libraries help to build strong communities. It is also a time for us as the library to show these communities all the wonderful things we offer.

During this time we had two contests for our patrons to enter. The kids had an I Spy contest, where they had to spot or count a variety of items. The 3 winners each received an Amazon gift card. The winners were Donie Newman, David Rauschenberger and Levi Vanlerberg. The adults also had a contest that for every day they checked an item out, their name was put into a drawing for a book called The Bucket List: Places to Find Peace and Quiet. The winner was Betty Stemen.

We also offered a family friendly program with Cartoonist Jeff Nicholas. Jeff shared with us some of his fun characters and invited the audience to draw along with him. After the program the 100th Birthday Bookmark winners were recognized. They were Wendell Trouneter, Lily Clark, Myrah Boyer, Zach Livingston, Mali Combs and Rose Andricks. Be sure to stop in and pick up one or all of these great bookmarks!
